Hearing in Famous Divorce Case Reopens Tomorrow

NEW YORK.—(By United Press) On the eve of the reopening of the Stillman divorce hearings at Poughkeepsie tomorrow, attorneys for Mrs. James A. Stillman today were searching for some of her witnesses who have dropped out of sight. Referee Gleason's rulings on admissibility of evidence, made last night, were considered a blow to Mrs. Stillman's case. The referee's final ruling on nine points of law brought up by Colonel William Rand, attorney for Stillman, was favorable to the banker on seven out of the nine. Practically all the disputed evidence tending to show alleged misconduct of the wife was admitted and only that which bore on Guy Stillman's alleged illegitimacy was barred. In some instances the referee ruled specifically that the given example evidence was accepted insofar as it concerned the misconduct charge, and not accepted as supporting the illegitimacy charge. Mrs. Stillman's lawyers were concerned about the sudden disappearance of several of their witnesses, the most important of whom was a seaman named Knute, who was prepared to testify concerning happenings on Stillman's yacht, the Modesty. The missing witnesses had been kept in sight until the very day they were to be summoned to testify against Stillman.

FRANCE ACCEPTS U. S. INVITATION

Harding Thanked for Disarmament Initiative

BRIAND MAY ATTEND MEET

Senate Enthusiastically Approves Proposed Conference

PARIS.—(By Associated Press) The French government will accept with pleasure and without reserve the invitation to a conference on the limitation of armaments. This is stated in a letter sent to the American embassy here by the government this morning, for President Harding.

Premier Briand later announced publicly in the chamber of deputies that the government would eagerly accept such an invitation. The premier expressed thanks to President Harding for "his noble initiative," while the chamber broke into cheers.

FRENCH ENTHUSIASTIC Sheldon Whitehouse, counselor of the American embassy, said this afternoon that the reply of the French government had been cabled to Washington during the morning. There was as yet no indication, he said, when the formal invitation would be presented to France.

The attitude of France was officially made known thru the foreign office in a note from M. De Peretti de la Rocca, director of political affairs, stating that France would be happy to receive an invitation to a disarmament conference in Washington.

The senate in its turn was aroused to unusual enthusiasm in approval of President Harding's idea when the announcement regarding the government's action was received by that body.

It was at the foreign office that Premier Briand probably would represent France at the proposed conference if circumstances permit it, and that whoever was sent would go with the "a of co-operating whole heartedly in any scheme for disarmament compatible with the security of France."

The French government makes no reservations regarding the proposed conference, being willing, it is stated, to discuss the limitation of land as well as naval armament, always with the proviso that ample protection be assured against any further eventual aggression from the east.

Then general impression made upon France by President Harding's move is most favorable, as indicated by expression on all sides. Financial circles are particularly appreciative, in view of the prospect held out of great economies in the maintenance of the navy and the army and the consequent relief of pressure upon the treasury.

BRITAIN'S PLANS

LONDON.—(By Associated Press) Viscount Grey of Fallodon, who was British secretary of state for foreign affairs when the world war began, says the Daily Mail, lead Great Britain's delegates to the disarmament conference to be held in Washington as a result of President Harding's proposal to the allied nations. The newspaper declares that a statesman at least of the type of Viscount Grey should be chosen, and that he should act with experts from the dominions at the conference.

After the preliminary and technical work of the conference is completed the Mail says, Prime Minister Lloyd-George may go to the United States to attend to the final moulting of the agreement. It appears to be the consensus of opinion that the conference will be held during the coming autumn, or at the latest, during the early months of 1922.

MOTHER IS SHOT

Youngstown Boy, Four Years Old, Wounds Woman

YOUNGSTOWN.—(By Associated Press) A Caesarian operation may be necessary to save the life of Mrs. Mary Harver, who was shot in the abdomen by her four year-old son last night. It was said at the hospital today. The boy picked up his father's revolver, inserted a cartridge, and playfully pointed the weapon at his mother as she was leaning over a crib with a baby in her arms.

WARDEN OF OHIO PRISON TO TAKE STAND IN PROBE

COLUMBUS.—Warden P. E. Thomas will go on the stand today in his own defense in the legislative probe of the Ohio penitentiary, resumed yesterday after a week's recess. Welfare workers are to be called today also. P. J. Gorman, superintendent of construction at the prison, testified today that prisoners painted automobiles belonging to members of the board of administration, but that the latter furnished the paint.

EXTORTION CASE SEQUEL

Union Labor Makes Charges Against County Prosecutor

YOUNGSTOWN.—(By Associated Press)—One attorney was disbarred, three were suspended for varying periods, and the case against common pleas judges who heard disbarment proceedings against five lawyers, handed down decisions here today. Xury Wilkins was disbarred, Shirley Galen and Harry Graham suspended for six months and Wallace Dunn was suspended for three months. The charges against Leo F. Wilcox were dismissed.

The disbarment proceedings grew out of an investigation of practice before justices of the peace in Mahoning-co and undertaken by the Mahoning Bar Association after Justice James Quigley had been convicted of extortion and embezzlement. He is now serving a prison term. The judges found that Wilkins had conspired with Quigley.

YOUNGSTOWN.—Declaring that County Prosecutor H. H. Hull ignored labor union demands for a grand jury investigation of conditions in the building trades here in connection with the strike now in progress, the United Labor Congress has instructed its officers to ask the United States department of justice to make an investigation. It was announced today by officers of the congress. Union leaders said they had affidavits showing that local firms had refused to supply materials to contractors employing union labor.

DEFENSE IS BEGUN IN KABER TRIAL

Undertaker Called As First Witness for Woman

CLEVELAND, O.—(By Associated Press) The state's contention that Eva Catherine Kaber attempted to kill her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, by poisoning, was attacked by the defense today as an initial effort to discredit the state's case. The first witness called by the defense was Roy A. Daniels, the undertaker who prepared Mr. Kaber's body for burial. He told of the autopsy conducted at the county morgue at which all the internal organs were removed.

He asserted that he used a hardening compound the organs, using two-thirds of a five pound box. He said he did not know the content of the powder. Mrs. Kaber appeared more cheerful today as testimony more favorable to her was being presented. She came into court without her face covered by a handkerchief.

MEET IN SECRET

Davis' Cabinet Members Convene Behind Closed Doors

COLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press)—The new state cabinet held another meeting today behind closed doors, with Director of Finance Floyd E. Walte presiding in the absence of Governor Davis. No announcement was made concerning the discussion at the meeting. R. E. Miles, director of the state institute of public efficiency, was present, but gave out no statement as the reason for his being there. It is understood that Director of Agriculture L. J. Taber presented a proposal to continue the bureau of markets, abolished by the reorganization code.

Another cabinet session is announced for tomorrow at 11 a. m.

WARNS SENATE AGAINST BILL

Proposed Legislation for Compensation of Veterans Called Menace to Financial Stability of Country by the President In Address to Solons

Declares Business Revival Unthinkable If Treasury Is Placed Under the Additional Burden Provided In Measure—Conditions of Nation Now Staggering

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press)—Enactment at the present moment of adjusted compensation legislation for veterans of the world war, would "greatly imperil the financial stability of our country," President Harding told the senate today in the second address he has made to that body during his administration. Every obligation is to the disabled and dependent, the president said, and the executive branch owed it to the country "frankly to state the difficulties we daily are called upon to meet, and the added peril this measure would bring."

"This menacing effort to expend billions in gratuities will imperil our capacity to discharge our first obligations to those we must not fail to aid," he said. "Our land has its share of the financial chaos and industrial depression of the world," the president said. "We little heeded the growth of indebtedness or the limits of expenditure during the war because we could not stop to count the cost. Our one thought then was the winning of the war and the survival of the nation."

After a four months' survey of conditions "which would stagger all of us were it not for our abiding faith in America," the president said, he was fully persuaded that three things were essential to restoration.

"These are," he continued, "the revision, including reduction, of our internal taxation, the refunding of our war debt, and the adjustment of our foreign loans."

"It is vitally necessary to settle these problems before adding to our treasury any such burden as is contemplated in the pending (soldier) bill."

NO PRECISE FIGURES Mr. Harding said it was "unthinkable" to expect business revival while maintaining "the excessive taxes of war" and "quite as unthinkable" to reduce tax burdens while committing the treasury to additional obligations ranging "from three to five billion dollars."

"The precise figures no one can give," he said. "It is conservatively true that only two hundred millions a year will be drawn annually from the treasury in the few years immediately before us, the bestowal is too inconsequential to be of real value to the nation's defenders; and, if the exercise of the option should call for cash running into billions, the depletion of finance and industry would be so marked that vastly more harm than good would attend."

"No government that will pay our bills," the president said. "The exchanges of the world testify today to that erroneous theory."

INTEREST ON LOANS

Mr. Harding pointed out that the government now was obliged to pay 5.34 per cent interest on short time loans and that definite obligations of seven and a half billions are to mature within two years following.

"The burdening of the treasury now means positive disaster in years immediately before us," he said. "Merest prudence calls out in warning."

The world "slump" was inevitable as an aftermath of war, the president said, adding that "the only sure way to normalcy is over the paths nature has marked thruout all human experience." The executive branch, he said, was "driving toward the decreased expenditure which is the most practicable assurance of diminished taxation."

"I can make you no definite promise in figures today," he said, "but I can pledge you a most conscientious drive to reduce government cost by many millions. It would be most discouraging to those who are bending their energies to save millions to have congress add billions to our burdens at the very beginning."

"Even were there not the threatened paralysis of our treasury, with its fatal reflexes on all our activities, which concern our prosperity, would it not be better to await the settlement of our foreign loans?"

The president said that while the United States participated "in none of the distributable awards of the war," the world "owes us heavily, and will pay when restoration is wrought."

SHARE OF CHAOS

Our land has its share of the financial chaos and the industrial depression of the world. We little heeded the growth of indebtedness or the limits of expenditures during the war because we could not stop to count the cost. Our one thought then was the winning of the war, and the survival of the nation. We borrowed and loaned—individually to the nation and to the government to other governments and to those who served the nation, with little thought of a settlement. It was relatively easy then, because national life was at stake. In the sober aftermath we face the order of reason, rather than act amid the passions of war, and our own land and the world are facing problems never solved before. There can be no solution unless we face the grim truths and seek to solve them in resolute devotion to duty. After a survey of more than four months contemplating conditions which would stagger all of us were it not for our abiding faith in America, I am fully per-

LIMA GUNMAN IS HELD AT KENTON

Koontz, Wanted Here For Shooting, Is Under Indictment

GUN TOTING IS THE CHARGE

Prisoner is Mulatto and Has Police "Record"

Because he is wanted in Harlan county to answer a charge of carrying concealed weapons, William J. Koontz, of Dola, who created excitement on E Market-st Sunday night by participating in a running gun fight with police and citizens, will not be returned to this city to face a charge of shooting with intent to kill L. C. Carr, 505 W. Market-st, at whose home he roomed.

This was learned Tuesday noon when Motorcop Keller of the local police department returned from Kenton where he had gone to convey Koontz back to this city. It was learned in Kenton that Koontz, whose home is about one and one-half miles from Dola, was indicted some weeks ago for carrying concealed weapons. He was not arrested at that time. When he returned to his home Sunday night following his battle with police here, he was immediately apprehended and presented in court at Dola. Koontz was bound over to the grand jury, it is understood.

KOONTZ HELD AT KENTON

Detective Alexander, of the Pennsylvania railroad, working with the local department, endeavored to reach Dola Monday afternoon by telephone and persuade authorities there to permit him convey Koontz to Lima, where he would face a shooting with intent to kill charge. When Alexander reached there, however, Koontz had been taken to Kenton.

According to Alexander, Koontz has a police record throughout this section of the country. Koontz served three and one-half years in prison, Alexander declares, being sent up from Bucyrus on a charge of shooting with intent to kill. Koontz is also alleged to have staged a gun fight with Pennsylvania detectives at Crestline some time ago.

Alexander says Koontz is a mulatto, but poses as a white man. His people, according to Alexander, reside near Dola. Railroad detectives for some time noticed a number of suit cases being shipped into Dola, carrying Koontz's name. They became suspicious. Upon opening one suitcase, Alexander declared, he found seventy-five razors.

At the time, Koontz left the Carr home here Sunday night, he was carrying a suit case, police say. Altho he dropped his coat, the man held onto the suit case.

DOLA MAN HAS "RECORD"

When asked as to what kind of game Koontz is alleged to have worked, Alexander declared he had no speciality. The railroad detective said, some years ago, Koontz pulled a "job" in Lima. It was while the late Chief Leffler was at the head of the department, he said. Going into a local jewelry store, Koontz is alleged to have declared his intention of purchasing a watch.

He is said to have told the jeweler he was a railroad man and presented the proper credentials. He made a small down payment on an expensive watch. That was the last the jeweler saw of the man, Alexander said. The credentials, Alexander declared, were stolen and forged. This same game, Alexander said, has been worked in Tiffin, Findlay and numerous other cities in this section.

Chief Roush could not say Tuesday afternoon whether an effort will be made to bring Koontz back here for trial.

According to authorities in Kenton, Koontz is wounded in the foot. This wound, police here say, was inflicted by Patrolman Edwards, who with other officers participated in the running gun fight with Koontz Sunday night.

REPAVING OF MAIN-ST TO GO OVER ANOTHER YEAR AND MAYBE TWO

Repaving of N. Main-st, from the Pennsylvania railroad to public square, will not be commenced this year and perhaps not until 1923, according to the opinion given by City Engineer Vaughn Miller Tuesday.

The underground work, repairing water mains, gas mains and outlet to sewers, has not been done this year and indications are none will be done. According to the engineer, considerable of this work is necessary and must be taken care of before paving is commenced.

If the underground work is not done this year, it will hang over until next and throw the paving off at least another year.

This is the third paving proposition council has passed with reference to the stretch in N. Main and none have ever matured.

Remonstrances filed by property owners caused the other two ordinances to be rescinded.

JUDGE HUGHES BRINGS SUIT TO TEST CITY WATER SERVICE ORDER

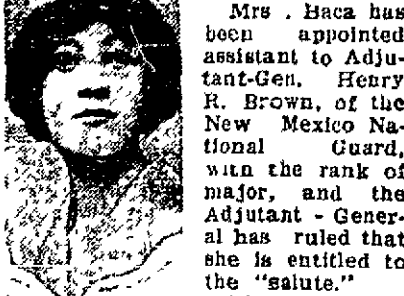

Suit to test validity of the order which provides that city water may be turned off when prompt payment is not made, was filed in common pleas court Tuesday by Kent W. Hughes against the City of Lima and Elmer McClain, public service director. Hughes is judge of the court of appeals.

Hughes declares the amount of $125 for the last six months of water service is charged against a property he owns at 708 S. McCall-st. He claims the meter is out of order or inaccurate. Judge Hughes says he has been in honest dispute with the service director since January of the present year to secure equitable disposition in the matter. He was granted a temporary injunction to prevent the city from turning off the water on his premises until such a time as the case can be acted upon in court.

DAUGHTER BORN.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Makely, 614 W. High-st, are the parents of a daughter, born Tuesday at St. Rita's hospital.

NEW MEXICO HAS NATIONAL GUARD WOMAN OFFICER

SANTA FE, N. M. — Mrs. James Baca, of this city, is believed to be the only woman officer of a National Guard unit in the United States.

Mrs. Baca has been appointed assistant to Adjutant-General, Henry R. Brown, of the New Mexico National Guard, with the rank of major, and the Adjutant-General has ruled that she is entitled to the "salute."

Mrs. Baca is the wife of Captain "Jim" Baca, former Adjutant-General, and for several years was part of the military organization headed by her spouse.

When the new Adjutant-General was inducted into office, he found Mrs. Baca's knowledge of military affairs indispensable and retained her as his executive officer.

Mrs. Baca is a social favorite and an expert equestrienne.

NEW SAFER SEEKS COOPERATION

Hendershott Meets Police Head and City Firemen

Like gossip concerning the safety department will not find a ready listener in C. M. Hendershott newly appointed director of public safety, who assumed his official duties Tuesday morning. This statement was made by Hendershott immediately following his tour of inspection of the safety building.

The new safety head seeks cooperation, is what he told Chief of Police Roush. Hendershott declared he is taking his new position with his mind and eyes open. He will not condemn any man upon hearsay. However, he promises an impartial trial upon the receipt of an affidavit regarding the violation of law by any member of his department.

"I hope," Hendershott told Chief Roush, "that we shall find cooperation conducive to the betterment of the department. I have no policy to offer, and at present no changes to suggest. As to what the future holds, I cannot say."

Following a tour of inspection of the safety building, at which time he visited police court, Hendershott visited the various fire stations in the city, where he met the employees and sought a mutual understanding between himself and them.

SHAWNEE-TP MAN DIES AT DAUGHTER'S HOME

George W. Cobb, 76, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Heater, Shawnee-tp, Tuesday morning, after an illness from a complication of diseases. He was a Civil war veteran. Besides the daughter, he was survived by two other children, Mrs. Sarah Lee and Frank Cobb, both of Toledo.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. Interment will be at Woodlawn.

ADMINISTRATOR NAMED

John G. Althaus, Bluffton, has been appointed administrator of the estate of his sister, Miss Mary Althaus, who committed suicide while a patient at the Toledo State hospital on May 29, last. The estate consists of $2,000 in personal property and $1,250 in real estate. Samuel Hilly, Amos Garmatter and N. F. Steiner are appointed appraisers.

CITY BUDGET NOT PASSED UPON

Finance Body Delay Menaces Police, Firemen Salaries

Altho the budgets of the various city departments have been filed with City Auditor David L. Rupert for nearly a month, the finance committee of council has not met to pass on the various requests.

Tuesday it was stated that the absence of Councilman John Reed was the cause of the delay in holding a meeting. Reed is enjoying a fishing trip on Lyon lake, near Marquette, Mich. It is anticipated that he will be absent for another week.

Tuesday Mayor Burkhardt held a conference with Councilman Earl Rohn, relative to calling a meeting of the finance committee to consider the budget. It was feared that unless the committee recommended adoption of the estimates for the safety department that pay for the fire and police departments might not be forthcoming July 15. Auditor David L. Rupert, however, set this fear at rest by promising to issue the checks for the first half of the month. Mayor Burkhardt does not state whether he intends calling a special council meeting to consider the budget.

LIMA KIWANIS WILL ENTERTAIN THEIR BOYS; OUTING IS PROPOSED

Members of the Lima Kiwanis club at their noon luncheon Tuesday decided to stage an entertainment for their boys. A committee was appointed to arrange a suitable program for sons of Kiwanians, for a meeting to be held soon.

A committee also was appointed to look into the advisability of holding an outing near this city in the near future. Some members spoke in favor of the game at the Children's home inasmuch as the home occupies the site of a famous Indian village and Kiwanis is linked with Indian tradition to the extent that its name came from that language.

The meeting Tuesday was in the form of a general discussion of interesting matters and a set-aside affair. It was decided that future meetings will be held at the Argonne hotel.

The meeting on July 25, will be held at the Shawnee country club. Wallace King was named to make arrangements.

A large contingent of the club will go to Sidney Wednesday with the club's ball team, where a baseball contest between the Lima and Sidney Kiwanis clubs will be staged.

LIMA IS REPRESENTED AT CEDAR POINT MEET OF ELECTRIC LIGHT MEN

J. B. Cochran, superintendent of lines and substations of the Ohio Electric, left Tuesday for Cedar Point, to attend the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Ohio Electric Light association, beginning Tuesday and which is expected to attract representatives of practically every electric light and power plant in the state. The meeting will continue until July 15.

An address on rate making is to be delivered by F. A. Newton of Jackson, Mich., Wednesday. Colonel Dudley B. Hard, president, delivered his annual address Tuesday.

More than $110,000,000 is invested in privately owned electric light and power plants in this state, reports will show. During the past year close to $20,000,000 has been added to this investment for the purpose of meeting the ever increasing demand for electrical energy.

DEODORIZING OTTAWA RIVER IS UP TO CITY. COUNTY HEALTHER HOLDS

Ottawa river, better known as "Hog Creek," with its many odors is a problem for the city and the city alone to solve, according to Dr. J. J. Sutter, Allen-to health commissioner.

Sewage from the city of Lima is the cause of the stench which not only is nauseating in the city, but far out into the country. If some agency within the district outside the city was polluting the stream, the health commissioner could abate the nuisance by causing the arrest of the guilty party. However, in the case of a city the matter must be taken up with the state department of health.

Some time ago the state department notified the Lima city council that something must be done to abate the nuisance. Pollution of the stream was ordered stopped. It is understood that the city in an answer to the state department, stated that it was taking the matter up and will soon remedy the situation.

OFFICIAL FAMILY CHANGES SOON

New County Officers and Dates Of Their Induction

Only a few weeks more and many new faces will be seen in the Allen-county house.

The first change will take place the first Monday in August, which this year falls on August 1. At that time John T. Cotner will assume the duties of county clerk of courts, Ira F. Clem will relinquish the office, after two terms of service. Cotner has announced he will name his deputies within the next few days. Cotner is a Democrat.

Next changes will come on the first Monday in September, when Harry Botkins becomes county treasurer, succeeding Lehr E. Miller, who has also served two terms. Botkins is a Republican.

At that time too Walter R. Toy, formerly county surveyor, will assume the duties of that office, having been elected in November. He will succeed E. A. Miller, who will return to his home in West Cairo. Toy is a Republican.

Guy Custer, Democrat, county recorder, succeeds himself.

No more changes will be apparent until the third Monday in September, when J. W. Thompson, Republican, newly-elected county commissioner, will take office. He succeeds James G. Mackenzie, Democrat.

THEFT OF LAVALLIERE CHARGED TO HERBERT LEFFLER BY SISTER

Charged with having stolen a lavalliere from his sister and selling it for $2.50, Herbert Leffler, 19, of 1021 E. Wayne st, was arrested Tuesday by Motorcop Glover and lodged in city prison. Detective Crisberry is investigating other thefts suspected to have perpetrated by young Leffler.

According to police, Leffler's sister and father, some days ago reported to police that he had stolen the necklace and sold it to a colored physician in the city. Detective Crisberry, investigating the matter, procured the necklace. Leffler, so he told police, sold the necklace for $2.50. He is unable to repay the physician, he said.

When arrested, Leffler had a small traveling bag, which he told police he found at the fair grounds. Police say, the bag belongs to a member of the cavalry, which recently left for camp.

enacted that three things are essential to the very beginning of the restored order of things. These are the revision, including reduction of our internal taxation, the refunding of our war debt and the adjustment of our foreign loans. It is vitally necessary to settle these problems before adding to our treasury any such burden as is contemplated in the pending bill.

BUSINESS HINDRANCE

It is unthinkable to expect a business revival and the resumption of the normal ways of peace while maintaining the excessive taxes of war. It is quite as unthinkable to reduce our tax burdens while committing our treasury to an additional obligation which ranges from three to five billions of dollars. The precise figures no one can give. If it is conceivably true that only two hundred millions a year will be drawn annually from the treasury in the few years immediately before us, the bestowal is too inconsequential to be of real value to the nation's defenders; and if the exercise of the option should call for cash running into billions, the depression in finance and industry would be so marked that vastly more harm than good would attend.

Our government must undertake no obligation which it does not intend to meet. No government flat will pay our bills. The exchanges of the world testify today to that erroneous theory. We may rely on the sacrifices of patriotism in war, but today we face markets and the effects of supply and demand and the inexorable laws of credits in time of peace.

At the very moment we are obliged to pay 5-6 per cent interest for government short time loans to care for our floating indebtedness, a rate on government borrowing, in spite of tax exemption, which ought to prevail in private transactions for the normal interest charges in financing our industry and commerce. Definite obligations amounting to seven and a half billions in war savings certificates, Victory bonds and certificates covering floating indebtedness are to mature in the two years immediately following, and the overburdening of the treasury now means positive disaster in the years immediately before us. Merest prudence calls out in warning.

GREATEST NECESSITY

Our greatest necessity is a return to the normal ways of peace activities. A modest offering to the millions of service men is a poor palliative to more millions who may be out of employment. Stabilized finance and well established confidence are both essential to restored industry and commerce.

The slump which is now upon us is an inevitable part of war's aftermath. It has followed in the wake of war since the world began. There was the unavoidable readjustment, the inevitable charge-off, the unwilling attendance of losses in the wake of high prices, the inexorable deflation which inflation preceded. It has been wholly proper to seek to apply government relief to minimize the hardships and the government had aided wherever possible, and is aiding now but all the special acts ever dreamed of, all the particular favors ever conceived, will not avoid all the distresses nor ward off all the losses. The proper mental state of our people will commit us resolutely and confidently to our tasks, and definite assurances as to taxation and expenditure will contribute to that helpful mental order. The only sure way to normalcy is over the paths nature has marked throughout all human experience.

With the approval of congress the executive branch of government has been driving toward the decreased expenditure which is the most practicable assurance of diminished taxation. With enthusiastic resolution your administrative agents are making not only conscientious effort to reduce the call for appropriations but to reduce the cost of government far below the appropriations you have already provided. It is easy to believe that the only way to diminish the burdens which the people must

"WORLD FAIR" IS PLANNED HERE

Lima Merchants To Stage Fall Trade Exposition

A fall trade exposition, such as has been successfully carried out in other cities, was discussed by members of the Lima Merchant's association at a special meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium Tuesday at 19 a. m.

It was decided to hold a banquet meeting on July 26 for a further discussion of the project. At that time complete plans will be presented, showing just what can be accomplished by the exposition.

Tentative plans call for a week early in October, when every store and industry will make special arrangements for demonstrating the work done by them. It will be a "World Fair at Home" and will afford the people of Lima and the surrounding territory an insight into the many industries of this city.

There will also be parades and various kinds of entertainment for the visitors. It is planned to make this the big week of the year.

EDUCATES PEARLS

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. — Pearls are parasites on the bodies of mussels, according to Dannie Dorman, Illinois river fisherman. Dannie recently found a mussel that apparently was producing a large button pearl. He kept the mussel in a secret cache, and the pearl is growing, he says. Dorman expects to realize a neat sum from its sale after it "grows up."

pay is to cut the outlay in which public moneys are expended. War is not wholly responsible for staggering costs. It has merely accentuated the menace which lies in mounting cost of governments and excess in expenditure which a successful private business would not tolerate.

AWFUL WALLOP IN DELPHOS BOOZE

Police Unable to Locate Whisky "Merchant"

'WHITE MULE' KICKS COZETTE

Postoffice Scrap at Delphos is Still On

DELPHOS—(Special) — Judging from the case of George Gozette, claiming Van Wert as his home, the illicit stuff which was peddled on the street here Monday night must have had "some kick." Gozette, who was taken by the officers on a drunk and disorderly charge, claimed he had bought the liquor from a stranger and that one-fourth pint had placed him in a happy state of mind.

Mayor Ben L. Jauman assessed him a fine of $100 and costs at the hearing later on a charge of having liquor in his possession. Several showmen were also imbibing of this strange fluid, but authorities were unable to discover the "merchant."

Rev. Father P. Ebner, St. Gerard, Ohio, took charge of the Ft. Jennings parish Sunday, filling the vacancy of Rev. Schritz, of that village, who is visiting relatives at his home in Luxembourg, Germany. A wire has been received in Ft. Jennings of the priest's arrival in Europe.

Several cases of shoplifting in the last few days have been reported to the authorities here. Isadore Fogelin reported several dozen pairs of high grade silk stockings missing Monday, and a number of thefts have been reported at American Legion concessions in their shows during the past week.

A petition signed by 90 per cent of the residents of S. Pierce-st in this city was presented to the board of control Monday, asking that no contracts for the paving of the street be let at the present time. Reasons given are that further decline in the prices of paving material is expected.

Several hundred people took part in the celebration Sunday at Buettner's Grove near this city, when the annual firemen's picnic was held. Many contests were held and a baseball game was played. Edward Kunder was named acting chief of the fire department and took charge Sunday during the picnic.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Delphos Home Telephone company will be held August 16 at the

PRINCESS MARY IS TO ENGLISH NOBLE RUMORED ENGAGE

LONDON — (By International News Service) — Court gossip has announced the betrothal of the Princess Mary to Lord Apsley, eldest son of the Earl of Bathurst. The Report cannot be confirmed but it is learned that during the polo game at Hurlingham a m. when the Americans were playing the British, Princess Marie Louise, a cousin of King George, told friends that the betrothal occurred last week at Windsor Castle, where Lord Apsley was a guest for the Ascot races.

Queen Mary is said highly to approve the match. She likes Lord Apsley, who is a typical young English aristocrat and a tall, scholarly young man who is worthy to be the escort of the only daughter of the royal house.

The rumored groom-to-be is twenty-six years old, two years older than the Princess. They have known each other since childhood and it is declared to be a real love match.

The Bathurst earldom is but 150 years old, but no surprise it felt that this fact has not interfered materially with the supposedly projected union of the princess with the heir of a peerage not of ancient creation.

Lord Apsley's mother is the gifted proprietor of the Morning Post, the organ of the British aristocracy.

PORTO RICAN HEAD FOR SUFFRAGE

New Governor Wants Women To Have Vote

REILLY TELLS OF PLANS

Desires Island As State Instead Of Independent

KANSAS CITY, MO.—(By Associated Press.)—From a residence on a quiet street in Kansas City, E. Mont Reilly is moving to a palace in the tropics, a palace built in the year 1915, with thirty-five rooms, twenty-one servants, a throne room where once Spanish governors ruled it in armor and bright silks, and courtly gardens bright with flowers.

The palace is one of the perquisites that goes with being governor of Porto Rico, a position to which President Harding appointed his friend "Mont" Reilly a few weeks ago. Governor Reilly sails for his new domain July 19, to take up the task of colonial administration that has been assigned to him. He has already devoted considerable time and thought to the problems of Porto Rico and has tentatively formulated a number of policies which he hopes to carry out.

WANT STATEHOOD.
"I want to see Porto Rico as truly it," and completely American as any state in our union," the governor said in discussing his plans for the island. "and I have no sympathy for the movement for making Porto Rico independent. I do not believe that the rank and file of Porto Rican voters want it, either: the independent propagandists are professional agitators; many of whom were not even born on the island. To the Porto Ricans who desire independence, I would say: Make Porto Rico a full-fledged state of the union; elect your own governors then, and you will have all the independence you want, and be infinitely better off than if the island were an independent nation. And the thoughtful men of Porto Rico, looking around them at some of the nominally independent countries of the West Indies, struggling with debts and other handicaps, appreciate the advantage of belonging to Uncle Sam."

"I don't know what the feeling of the President and Secretary Woods would be in regard to statehood for Porto Rico, and while I should like to see it, whatever their views are, are mine."

ENGLISH PRIMARY.
"In line with this, I favor making the English primary language in the Porto Rican schools, and Spanish secondary. I want to see the Stars and Stripes the only flag in Porto Rico. There is a movement in the island for a Porto Rican flag. The American flag, under which our fathers won their liberty, is the flag which brought liberty and self government to Porto Rico. I don't think we need try and improve upon it."

"I want to see woman suffrage in Porto Rico and mean to work for it."

SOCIETY GIRL WILL TOUR IN AN AIRPLANE

LOS ANGELES Miss Cornelia B. McLaughlin, a New York society girl, believes such methods of touring Europe as trains and steamships are a bit old-fashioned. Also, that they do not furnish the thrills that one expects from a super-civilization.

So Miss McLaughlin came to Southern California recently, learned how to fly an airplane, secured a pilot's license and plans to make an air tour of France and Italy this summer.

Emery H. Rogers, the aviator who gave Miss McLaughlin lessons, says she proved one of the ablest out of several hundred pupils who have come under his observation. She was the first aviator trained in Southern California to be granted recognition by the Aero Club of America.

LOCAL SECURITIES GO BEGGING

No Bidders For Near Million Dollars Lima Bonds

Bond buyers were conspicuous by their absence at city hall Monday when $85,000 of six per cent bridge bonds, advertising for the past month, were put up for sale.

As was the case on May 16, when Auditor David L. Rupert had the securities on the bargain counter, no one with a huge bank roll was around craving to invest.

Besides the bridge bonds, the balance of the deficiency bonds, $51,000 were offered for sale, together with $20,000 water main bonds, and $682,500 sewer five year coupon notes.

Failure to sell the bridge bonds will not embarrass the city immediately, Auditor Rupert states. There still remains a balance in the bridge fund from sale of previous issues of bonds, which will enable the city to meet construction costs for a short time.

The advance draw made on County Treasurer Lehr Miller, for the 1920 taxes will enable Lima to operate her department until October 1. By that time Auditor Rupert hopes to dispose of the remainder of the deficiency issue. Unless this is done, there will be no money for operation and maintenance for the final quarter of the year.

PARK MANAGER DENIES CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Pleading not guilty to a charge of assault upon Marquis Minard, 19, 502 Liberty-st., when arraigned before Judge Emmett Jackson in police court, Tuesday morning, Walter Hoffman, 27, E. McKibben-st., manager of McCullough's park, will be given a hearing in the same court Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

According to Mrs. Rachel Minard, mother of Marquis, Hoffman became enraged when she was responsible for the arrest of Hoffman's brother, taken Saturday night suspected of having stolen an automobile tire. Walter Hoffman, she avers, assaulted her son because of this.

Hoffman declares he can prove his innocence, when given a hearing Monday afternoon.

IS ORDERED TO REMOVE HOGS FROM CITY LIMITS

If Roy Eberle, 26, 123 W. Sixth-st., eats pork from his sown hogs this winter, he will have to move said hogs from within the city limits, Judge Emmett Jackson told him Tuesday morning, when he was arraigned in police court on a charge of keeping hogs within the corporation line. Sanitary Officer Shore signed the affidavit against Eberle.

Judge Jackson told Eberle to find a place outside the city limits for his hogs. If Eberle is unable to do this, Judge Jackson says he will arrange for a place where Eberle may keep the hogs until winter.

ROTATE NAMES ON PRIMARY BALLOT

Commissioner Candidates Must Pay $3 Fee by Thursday

The names of the twenty odd candidates on the ballot for city commissioner will be rotated, so that each man will hold first place on the ticket an equal number of times. Each name will come up in turn every 21 ballots.

Commencing with the first set of ballots, the names will be listed in alphabetical order. On the second ballot, No. 2 is advanced to first place and No. 1 drops to the foot of the ladder. And so on by rotation the names constantly are changed so that no two successive ballots will be the same.

All but six of the candidates entered in the race have paid their entrance fee of $3.00, according to A. J. Morris, clerk of the election board. Morris announced that he would throw off the ballot the Tuesday. Later he consented to an extension of time, but stated that he must have the fees by Thursday. On August 9 the voter will cast their ballots for the five men they deem best qualified. They may vote for any five they desire. They can vote for less than five, but no more than that number.

Ten men receiving the highest number of votes will be nominated. Of this number five will be elected at the polls in November.

ECCENTRIC HEN IS AUTO RIDER

Biddy. Owned by Delmo Snyder Takes Night Rides

MERCHANTS DECIMATE FLIES

"Father of Dixie Highway" is Headed This Way

WAPAKONETA.—(Special)—Delmo Snyder, residing six miles east of here, lays claim to the most eccentric hen hereabouts. She has developed a liking for autos and resorts to scheming to fill her desires.

Monday night Biddy, instead of going to roost in the usual place, hopped on the tire carrier of Snyder's auto. He started up and came to town, the hen sticking on the carrier the entire distance of six miles.

She was still on her peculiar roosting place when Snyder returned from a shopping trip. He permitted her to remain and she retained her position, regardless of ruts, bumps and passing autos.

Rainfall in the last two weeks has been only .74 of an inch. Farmers declare much produce will be ruined if it does not rain within a few days.

Died: Mrs. Fred Fox, from cancer of the brain.

Colonel Charles W. Thatcher, known as the "Father of the Dixie Highway," will be here within a few days in the interest of a proposed highway from Boston to Los Angeles, to be known as the Washington Highway. He will drive here from Dayton with a span of mules and a wagon.

This city was selected for a big frolic and initiation by Buckeye Legion, L. O. O. M. September 4. Upwards of 200 candidates will be initiated.

Merchants here are making a concerted effort to kill swarms of flies that infest the business district. Poisons are employed and millions of the insects are killed daily. Sidewalks in some instances are covered with them.

Rev. Julian Mayer, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church, who was operated upon at St. Joseph's hospital in Ft. Wayne last week, is recuperating.

Troop C of the 127th Cavalry, from Cincinnati, passed thru here en route over the B. & O. to Camp Perry for annual maneuvers.

Fred C. Romshe, well-known farmer residing north of here, was operated upon at St. Rita's hospital, Lima, for a bursted appendix. He is recovering.

The local Kiwanis Club will hold an afternoon and evening picnic at either Munster or New Bremen sometime soon.

W. H. SCROGGS of Buffalo, N. Y., who says "Neutrone Prescription '99" cured him of rheumatism after everything else, even a change of climate, failed.

"While working for Dodge Bros., Detroit, a sudden attack of rheumatism crippled me all up. My legs, knees and feet swelled to double size. Western doctors did not help me and I had to stop work.

When I came East, my cousin thinking a change of climate would help. Instead, I got worse than ever. My arms becoming so useless that my wife had to feed me through a tube. Eastern doctors and remedies proved no better than those of Detroit.

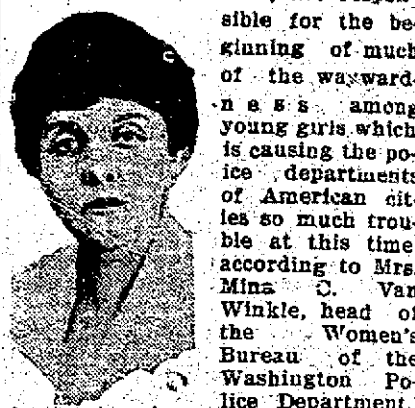

"Every day my cousin urged me to try 'Neutrone Prescription '99'. It had cured him. So with little faith, I began to take this wonderful remedy. Truly, it seemed that a miracle had happened. Swellings went down, my crippled joints straightened out and in two weeks I was back to work as well or even better than ever. Three bottles cured me, but I took a couple more to drive out any trace of rheumatic poison.

"Neutrone Prescription '99' put me back to work, and I have worked steadily ever since. It cured me and I trust this letter will persuade all sufferers to get the same help that I got. They will never regret it."

Neutrone Prescription '99' now comes in tablet as well as liquid form, whichever is preferred. Leading Druggists everywhere. Butler's Drug Store, Baldwin's Central Drug Store, Hunter's Drug Stores.

FALSE ADS OF FAKE MOVIES ADD TO CRIME

WASHINGTON.—Frivolous motion picture concerns, promising girls fame and fortune, are responsible for the beginning of much of the waywardness among young girls which is causing the police departments of American cities so much trouble at this time, according to Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, head of the Women's Bureau of the Washington Police Department.

"The concerns are to be found in all the large cities," said Mrs. Van Winkle, "and they catch their victims thru advertisements in local newspapers." Mrs. Van Winkle is the prime mover in the plan to have Attorney-General Daugherty establish a bureau of missing persons under his department. "Women form the major part of the 66,000 missing persons in the United States to-day," said Miss Van Winkle.

DEMPSEY WON HIS FIGHT DURING THE "CLINCHES"
"Why not keep battering away with as much determination as the world's champion fighter exercised when he found himself in a tight place?"—B. C. Forbes, financial expert.

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

WISHING THE PATIENT UNHAPPY DAYS

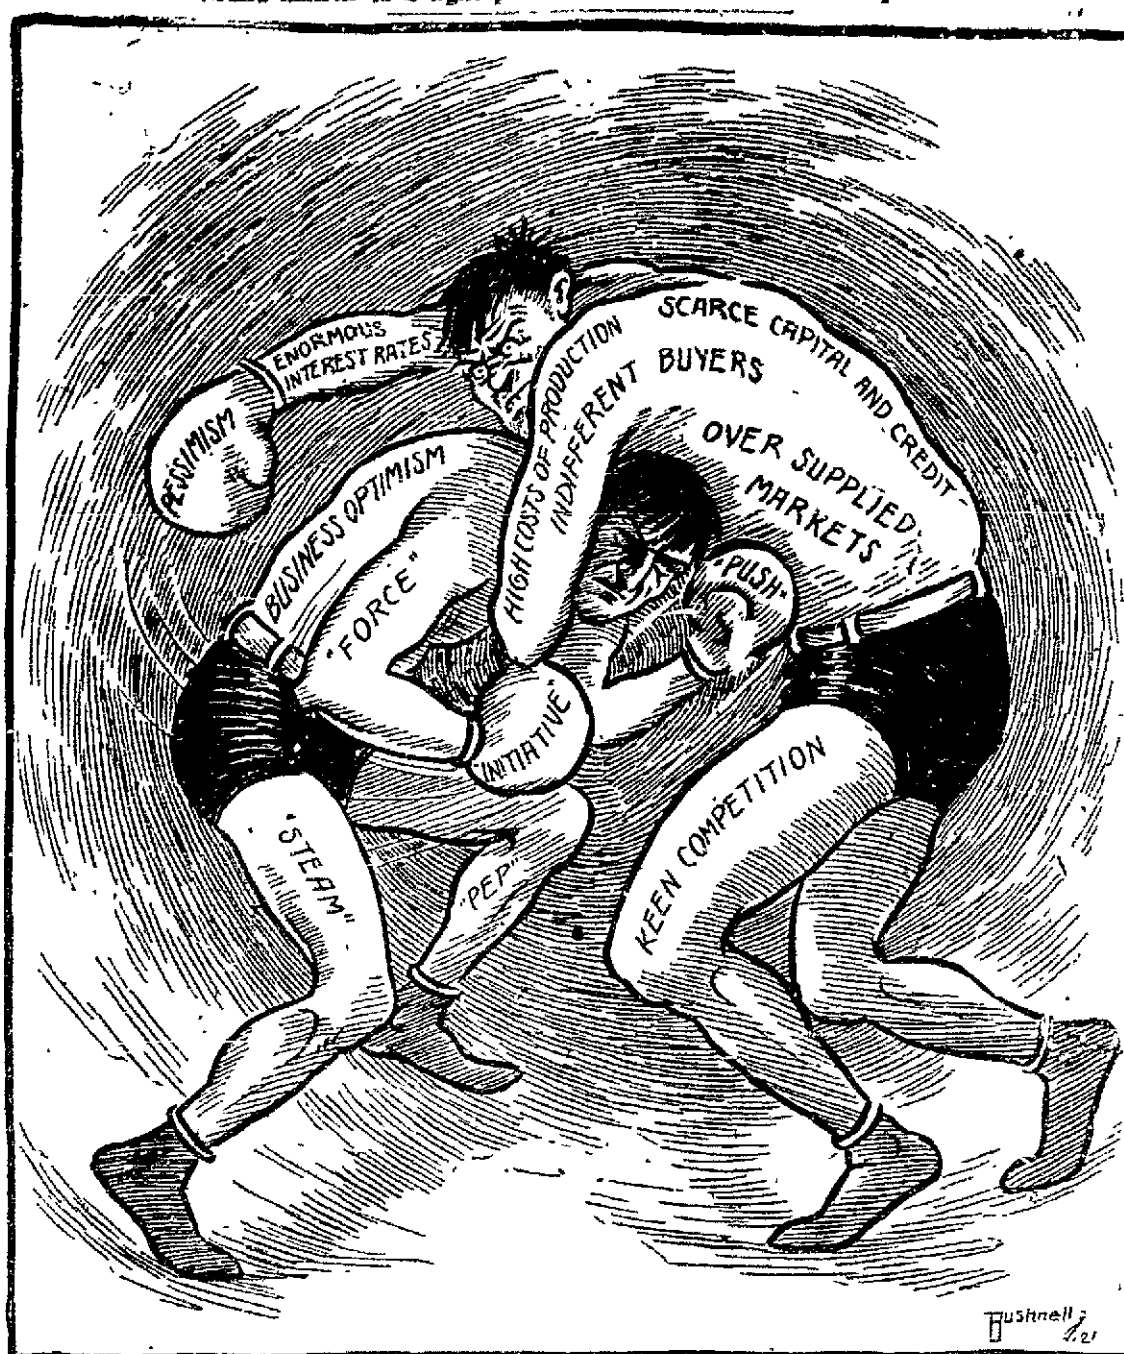

That cheerless disposition, which goes with sagging or displacement of abdominal organs, under the name of splanchnic anhedonia, is too frequently aggravated, by bad news from the X-ray mechanician. Thus many a woman has been launched upon a sea of trouble by the bad news that her right kidney was loosened from its moorings and wandering about the abdomen, whereas had the doctor kept his discovery to himself the poor woman might have been quite contented and happy—or at any rate fairly happy, for I suppose no woman can be quite "contented" this side of heaven.

Likewise, with prolapsed stomach, ptoed liver, sagging colon and all the rest of the scrambled contents—it is not quite fair to mention the discovery of such loose organs to the patient except when this information is necessary for the purpose of obtaining co-operation by the patient in the carrying out of remedial measures such as absolute bed rest, postural maneuvers, exercises appropriate to the individual requirements, feeding, or in some cases artificial support or surgical interferences.

X-ray pictures have proved that most adults have more or less sagging of stomach or bowel, at least when the positions of the abdominal organs are compared with our older conceptions of the normal positions of the organs. It follows, therefore, that a diagnosis of splanchnoptosis or sagging organs based solely on X-ray examination is not worth considering. Faulty interpretations of X-ray pictures by mere X-ray technicians without medical training and experience have injured too many patients—but nowadays about the only victims of this mechanical kind of "diagnosis" are those Wisenheimer who think to go over the doctor's head and have an X-ray examination on their own. Precious few of us would fail to find our "ards more or less displaced or "dropped" if we were to rely on mere X-ray evidence.

A good half of our modern "specialists" ought to be sent back to honest general practice, and at least four-fifths of the X-ray diagnosticians that infest the country ought to be equipped with overalls and put at some useful work, such as half-soling shoes.

Another group of mechanicians who arrogate to themselves special skill in diagnosis and treatment are the manufacturers of innumerable kinds of supporters and corsets for persons with visceroptosis. These people frequently encourage the merchants to pose as "experts," very much as some shoe dealers pretend to be "foot specialists"—and the e. o. public pays for the fact. If artificial support or bracing of any kind is advisable temporarily for any part of the body, spine, limb, feet, abdomen, certainly the application of the support should be left to the judgment of the physician and not to the whim of any mechanician. Irreparable harm has been done in countless instances by ill-adviced use of artificial support of various kinds, especially in young subjects.

JUST FOLKS—BY EDGAR A. GUEST

MOTHER'S VACATION

Out to the summer cottage Mother and Buddy went,
Out for a glad vacation, to stay till the heat was spent;
Mother was worn and weary, nervous and needed a rest,
So to the lake we sent her, but never the lake we guessed.

Sunday we left her settled, with never a thing to do,
But the Watsons came on Tuesday to stay for a day or two;
Back to the grind went Mother, back to the same old game,
And as soon as the Watsons left her, four of the Bronsons came.

"We'll help with the work," they chorried, but Mother must bake the pies,
And Mother must cook their breakfasts ere ever her guests arise;
And while on the porch they chatted and basked in the wide outdoors, it was then that I lost my temper.

It was Mother who washed the dishes, and Mother who swept the floors.

Scenes had 'The Bronsons vanished, when the Greens wrote in to say
They'd come for a few days' visit, now Green had a holiday;
And the Greens and their young made merry and followed, their hearts' desire
While Mother, to get their victuals, stood over the kitchen fire.

It was then that I lost my temper. "We'll close up the place," I said.
"If you are to take in boarders you can do it when I am dead!
No more of these week-end visits. It is home to the rocking chair, And the porch and the climbing roses—you can get a vacation there."

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is not a lucky day. It is especially unfortunate for lovers, since under this rule of the stars, they may be inclined to practice deception which will be discovered.

During the coming year, the number of divorces will greatly increase, partly as a result of aggravated economic conditions.

This is not a fortunate time to apply for appointments of any kind, especially those governed by politics.

The stars indicate that the president of the United States will be much troubled by those seeking public office, especially by women.

Persons whose birthday this is should carefully avoid speculation during the coming year.

Children born on this day will have interesting eventful lives; probably, they will be extremely talented and ambitious.

DAYTON'S EXPERIENCE

JUST as Lima is about taking the final steps for the adoption of the commissioner-manager form of government, due to become effective on January 1, 1922, Dayton is seeking to rid itself of its commission and bring about a restoration of the federal form, from which it departed several years ago, in behalf of the new idea.

A petition asking for the recall of the commission, thru referendum, as provided in the charter, has been filed with the Montgomery-co board of elections, to be passed upon by that body. The petition is signed by more than 3,000 property owners of the city and is the outgrowth of dissatisfaction over several matters in which action by the commission affected all the people.

Unsatisfactory as the federal form of city government proved itself to be in Dayton, honeycombed with politics, it is charged that commissioner-manager plan has been little better. It is claimed that politics found its way in, unrestrained for the most part, which was looked upon as meaning ultimate ruin of the plan if continued.

Should a referendum be called in Dayton, its outcome will be watched with consuming interest by Lima citizens, altho a comparison of conditions in Dayton with those of Lima at this time is not fair. This city is soon to try out the new form of government. What has proven a failure in Dayton, according to the petition filed, has been a wonderful success elsewhere, notably in Springfield, where the affairs of the city are running smoothly, since an effort made to eliminate politics proved successful.

Lima has a right to try out the new plan. It was adopted by the people in a decisive manner. Candidates for first commissioners have announced themselves, twenty-one in number. Of these, ten will be nominated in the primary election in August. In the November election five will be chosen, to take office January 1. The commissioners will elect one of their number as mayor and will also employ a city manager.

No matter what the outcome of the Dayton referendum may be, it will be no criterion for Lima. The commissioner-manager plan has been a success more often than a failure. Lima prefers to try it out. But only by the elimination of politics can it be made a success.

YOUR NEWS

DAY after day as you read your daily paper you wonder how so much news is gathered together in such short time. You probably think of the great amount of expense involved in collecting information concerning everything of interest from every part of the world.

Many persons have written to The Lima News asking what the Associated Press and the United Press are, how they work and how it is possible for them to cover so much territory.

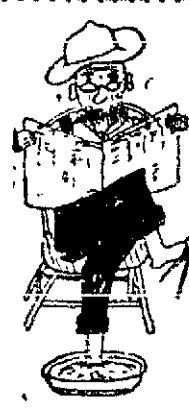

The whole secret is cooperation. News in Lima is gathered by a large force of reporters for The News. But readers of this paper also want news of Columbus; of other cities, in fact, of the world.

So The News says to The Columbus Dispatch and The Ohio State Journal, "We will furnish you news from Lima in return for you furnishing us news from Columbus." The same agreement is made with every other city in this country and with those of foreign countries—not directly, of course, but thru the representatives of the two associations.

That, then, is the Associated Press and the United Press, the two foremost newsgathering organizations of the world which serve the patrons of The Lima News daily.

No newspaper, no matter how big, could employ reporters to cover the world as they do.

DIVORCES DECREASE

VITAL statistics for Allen-co, as compiled in the office of the clerk of the courts, indicate that the divorce evil is slowing up. Sixty-one less cases were filed in the local courts during the year ending June 30, 1921, than in the previous twelve-month.

That is something, but the fact remains that there are entirely too many divorce actions. Two hundred and thirteen suits filed in the year just closed and 274 the previous year. The court is cluttered with cases growing out of discordant domestic relations. Allen-co home life is sadly out of tune in entirely too many instances, as the court records show. A total of 207 cases were decided in the year ending June 30 and 255 in the previous year.

Requests for the severance of marital bonds are coming more rapidly than they can be disposed of by the court. The grounds on which divorces are sought are all too often of the most flimsy character. "Marry in haste and repent at leisure" is a saying that apparently no longer holds good. In many instances, upon the slightest provocation, couples rush into court and seek to escape the responsibilities of married life, after hurrying into matrimony with eyes wide open.

The court of domestic relations is a "bridge of sighs," of a different kind and character than the sighs of lovelorn youth and maiden when they meet, grab hands, rush to the marriage license bureau, then to a minister and are "tied up" for life before they really become acquainted with one another. In cases where there are no children, the divorce habit does not jar the sensibilities of the public in such a marked degree, but when little ones are separated from parent by the decree of the law, new material is afforded the anti-divorce contingent for inveighing against the course which they see as a menace to society.

Viewed from any angle, the number of divorces granted daily is all too large. Religious societies that oppose it except on a certain few specified grounds, are doing a good work. Legislation that makes divorce more difficult to secure is in the interest of future generations. Divorce is an easy avenue for the man or woman who holds marriage vows lightly. It should be made so difficult to procure that more care and caution will be exercised before the marriage state is entered into.

DANCING

LIMA dance pavilion proprietors who have trouble barring the various alleged dances, which are declared objectionable, might profit by trying the plan one manager of an Ohio pavilion used successfully.

It was noticed that some of the girls attending dances there insisted on toddling, camel-walking and cat-stepping. Dancers were called together and given this advice:

"Dance as you would if your mothers were here."

The plan worked. It appears about the best yet suggested. A girl, made to visualize the presence of her mother's reproving eyes, is not likely to dance in a vulgar manner.

SWIMMING

OFFICIALS have ruled, and rightly so, that swimming cannot be permitted in the city's water reservoirs. While they would make fine places for the boys to enjoy themselves during the hot spell, it is not likely that the public would favor having its water supply used for bathing.

It is to be regretted that the city can offer no municipal beach. The only available place is privately owned. Plans are being discussed to give the city more park facilities, but their realization will be a matter of years. A great service could be done by hurrying this project.

SPEAK FOR YOURSELF, ELL

Dear Roy—I want to say to you that I keenly sympathize with my late lamented contemporary, William Shakespeare, in his long post-mortem fight against Lord Bacon and other plagiarists and usurpers who sought credit for his literary masterpieces. My sympathy for Bill is all the more acute because of the fact that he, like myself, wore his brains in his head rather than on his countenance. The immediate cause of this outburst of delayed sympathy may be found in the following facts: A short while ago I wrote an essay which was published over a fictitious name. I thought well enough of it to show it to a lady of letters whom I had met for the first time a few days before, and she enthused over it. After I was quite sure that her enthusiasm was genuine I confessed to the authorship. "I don't believe you," she exclaimed. "You don't look like one who could do it." Now, Roy, I have picked you out to wall to for the reason that you and I are built after cherubic lines and bear a strong resemblance to each other (I've got a little on you in the matter of looks), and I want to ask you if you don't think it a dastardly outrage that baby-faced fellows like you and me are regarded by some people as nice to look at, but of no other earthly use?

What shall I do about it? I am terribly worried.—Ell Pratt.

STEEL PLANT TO REOPEN SOON

Expect Resumption of Activity in 30 Days

DEPENDS ON GOVERNMENT

Buying Power of Railroads to be Restored

The Lima plant of the Ohio Steel company will reopen within 30 days, with a full force of men, provided the buying powers of railroads are revived. Under the same conditions, officials of the Ohio Steel company are planning to reopen their Bucyrus plant, according to announcement Tuesday.

The Lima plant has been operating with only a small force; the Bucyrus plant has been closed for the past two years. The latter plant was recently cleaned up and put in shape for the opening by John W. Beall, Lima.

Heads of the steel company say that the Bucyrus plant is too valuable to be permitted to stand idle and that they are anxious to see the Lima plant operating with full force again. But they declare that orders are so few as to make this impossible.

PLAN IS EVOLVED

The plan to revive the buying powers of the railroads has been decided as the quick and sure method to evolve a master plan for industrial rehabilitation. It was decided upon unanimously at a conference of leaders of large business interests.

It was determined to begin an immediate and concentrated movement to secure executive action assuring first, the refunding for ten years of the debt due by the roads to the government; secondly, quick distribution of approximately a quarter of a billion dollars now in the treasury for payment to the roads of the debt due by the government.

In long private conferences in Washington, railroad executives determined to fight along this line concerted. Certain members of the cabinet were informed, most intimately of the truly serious condition which made the proposed action imperative.

It was represented to the present administration that acceptance of the refunding proposals would be followed promptly by equipment and other orders from the roads, the effect of which would be at once to revive the iron and steel industry, which would sympathetically inspire a business revival in all other directions.

ENDORSED BY SENATORS

The plan won the endorsement of the Interstate Commerce commission and of certain senators active in railroad matters.

Assurance was given some days ago by President Harding, which are interpreted to mean that under the permissive authority of the transportation act he would sanction the bringing about of the ten-year refunding program.

Auguries are that in the near future the refunding program will be adopted and announced by the administration and also that a speeding up of payments by the government to the roads will follow.

Not only will this year plan be benefited, but all other industries in Lima will set to work their machinery and it is figured will relieve, to a large extent, the unemployment situation in this city, plant heads believe.

BONDS ARE TAKEN BY CONTRACTORS

Electric Companies Proceed With Lighting System

Work was started on Lima's four-lamp lighting system, Tuesday, and will be completed by November 1, according to promises made by the contracting companies, the Northern Electric of Columbus and the Washington Electric of Pittsburgh.

The companies some time ago agreed to accept the city bonds issued to pay for the extension of the lighting system in payment for their work. Auditor Rupert had been unable to sell the securities and the only way by which the work could be started this year was for the concerns interested to take the issues. The two issues total $150,000.

Work will proceed as rapidly as possible and posts are being distributed in several of the streets to be improved. The first to be installed will probably be in Main-st. Other streets to be improved with lights are W. Market, W. High, W. North-sts.

MUST GO TO WORK OR SERVE TIME IN JAIL

If he goes to work, Charles Daniels, 26, Morris hotel, may keep out of jail. This ultimatum was issued by Judge Emmett Jackson in police court, Tuesday morning, when Daniels was arraigned on a charge of loitering.

Daniels was arrested Monday night while sleeping in a vacant house. He declared it was too hot to sleep in the hotel where he has a room.

MEN AND MATTERS

There was a balance of $473.21.83 in the city treasury on July 1, according to report compiled by City Auditor D. L. Rupert Tuesday. General city funds are very low. The amounts on hand for the most part are for improvements, bridges, sewers, street paving and other projects.

STEEL PLANT TO REOPEN SOON

Expect Resumption of Activity in 30 Days

DEPENDS ON GOVERNMENT

Buying Power of Railroads to be Restored

The Lima plant of the Ohio Steel company will reopen within 30 days, with a full force of men, provided the buying powers of railroads are revived. Under the same conditions, officials of the Ohio Steel company are planning to reopen their Bucyrus plant, according to announcement Tuesday.

The Lima plant has been operating with only a small force; the Bucyrus plant has been closed for the past two years. The latter plant was recently cleaned up and put in shape for the opening by John W. Beall, Lima.

Heads of the steel company say that the Bucyrus plant is too valuable to be permitted to stand idle and that they are anxious to see the Lima plant operating with full force again. But they declare that orders are so few as to make this impossible.

PLAN IS EVOLVED

The plan to revive the buying powers of the railroads has been decided as the quick and sure method to evolve a master plan for industrial rehabilitation. It was decided upon unanimously at a conference of leaders of large business interests.

It was determined to begin an immediate and concentrated movement to secure executive action assuring first, the refunding for ten years of the debt due by the roads to the government; secondly, quick distribution of approximately a quarter of a billion dollars now in the treasury for payment to the roads of the debt by the government.

In long private conferences in Washington, railroad executives determined to fight along this line concerted. Certain members of the cabinet were informed most intimately of the truly serious condition which made the proposed action imperative.

It was represented to the present administration that acceptance of the refunding proposals would be followed promptly by equipment and other orders from the roads, the effect of which would be at once to revive the iron and steel industry, which would sympathetically inspire a business revival in all other directions.

ENDORSED BY SENATORS

The plan won the endorsement of the Interstate Commerce commission and of certain senators active in railroad matters.

Assurance was given some days ago by President Harding, which are interpreted to mean that under the permissive authority of the transportation act he would sanction the bringing about of the ten-year refunding program.

Auguries are that in the near future the refunding program will be adopted and announced by the administration and also that a speeding up of payments by the government to the roads will follow.

Not only will the steel plant be benefitted, but all other industries in Lima will set to work their machinery and it is figured will relieve, to a large extent, the unemployment situation in this city, plant heads believe.

BONDS ARE TAKEN BY CONTRACTORS

Electric Companies Proceed With Lighting System

Work was started on Lima's boulevard lighting system, Tuesday and will be completed by November 1, according to promises made by the contracting companies, the Northern Electric of Columbus and the Washington Electric of Pittsburgh.

The companies some time ago agreed to accept the city bonds issued to pay for the extension of the lighting system in payment for their work. Auditor Rupert had been unable to sell the securities and the only way by which the work could be started this year was for the concerns interested to take the issues. The two issues total $150,000.

Work will proceed as rapidly as possible and posts are being distributed in several of the streets to be improved. The first to be installed will probably be in Main-st. Other streets to be improved with lights are W. Market, W. High, W. North-sts.

MUST GO TO WORK OR SERVE TIME IN JAIL

If he goes to work, Charles Daniels, 26, Morris hotel, may keep out of jail. This ultimatum was issued by Judge Emmett Jackson in police court, Tuesday morning, when Daniels was arraigned on a charge of loitering.

Daniels was arrested Monday night while sleeping in a vacant house. He declared it was too hot to sleep in the hotel where he has a room.

MEN AND MATTERS
There was a balance of $478.27.83 in the city treasury on July 1, according to report compiled by City Auditor D. L. Rupert Tuesday. General city funds are very low. The amounts on hand for the most part are for improvements, bridges, sewers, street paving and other projects.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to Allen Lodge No. 223, I. O. O. F. R. C. and the ladies that sang and the missionary society, also the Trinity Brotherhood and Veteran Employees of the N. and O. Shops and the Ladies Aid to B. and O. LIMA PEOPLE TO APPEAR IN MOVIES STAGE AT SIGMA THEATRE TO BE TRANSFORMED INTO STUDIO

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

Nearly everyone has a natural curiosity to see how moving pictures are actually made, and in order to gratify that curiosity the Sigma Theatre, thru an arrangement with the Elid Feature Productions of Hollywood, Calif., will make pictures this week of local interest, with local people playing the different parts assigned them.

The stage will be transformed into a motion picture studio, with studio camera, lights and equipment, and the interior views of the comedy or melodrama, will be filmed in full view of the audience. The scenes will be rehearsed and photographed at these performances in exactly the same way as scenes are made in the big studios. The exterior scenes will be made on the streets of Lima, and these together with the scenes made on the Sigma stage, will form a complete story, which will be shown on the Sigma screen two weeks later.

A special picture will also be made of the audiences to give everyone an opportunity of seeing themselves in the movies. The making of the picture will give everyone an exact idea of how pictures are made, showing the inside workings of the studio, the life of the camera man, actor, actress and extras, it is said.

Eighteen young ladies and young men will be used in the production. Those who care to see themselves acting in the movies should make application at the Sigma theatre box office and secure an application blank. These pictures will be made at every performance at the Sigma Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

YOU'LL LIKE THIS CURWOOD FILM, SURE

Those who love the Curwood film, "The Honor of His Family," will enjoy this "God's Country" film, as it is one of the finest yet made. The scenes of which it is made, are in all Curwood stories, as I believe are laid in northern Maine. Of course there are places where one may point to flows it one wants to, but as a whole, the picture is worth telling about.

Deep in the impenetrable woods lives Andre and his adored and adoring little wife (Gladys Leslie). Also in the woods lives a happy old musician and his young daughter. The villain in the case, a man portrayed by William Foster, is known as Jacques Dure, a whiskey-runner and all-around desperado. Because of a peculiar rattle-shake charm he wears around his neck, he is afraid of no one; once, however, he is taken from him he becomes a hunted thing. Fearful of his own shadow and forever seeking escape from the images of those he had wronged.

OTIS SKINNER AND GEORGE ARLISS

OTIS Skinner, who made his first movie appearance in "Kismet," now is filming "The Honor of His Family."

ROMANIAN QUEEN'S MOVIE IN LONDON

"The Lily of Life" from a staged fantasy written and presented in Paris by the Queen of Rumania, has been made into a movie now being shown in London.

It was produced in France by the dancer, Louis Boller, a famous troupe thru snow white forests. The scenes are as fantastic as the wonderland of Alice.

Many of these effects result from projecting negatives instead of positive prints.

Rehearing Denied
In Browning Case

The Appellate Court of the District of Columbia recently denied the application of the Victor Talking Machine Co. for a rehearing of the Browning case. This case, which was decided affirmatively for Browning and his co-prosecutors, the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., involves the fundamental principles of the cabinet instrument, and bears also on the tone-modifying doors and the taper tone arm and sound chamber.

The previous decision confirmed Browning's claim to have been the first to disclose these elements in phonograph construction, evidence being based on a drawing made on the back of a dance program.

The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. and Browning, it is now announced, will now prosecute applications for patents on the latter's invention.

The Appellate Court of the District of Columbia recently denied the application of the Victor Talking Machine Co. for a rehearing of the Browning case. This case, which was decided affirmatively for Browning and his co-prosecutors, the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., involves the fundamental principles of the cabinet instrument, and bears also on the tone-modifying doors and the taper tone arm and sound chamber.

The previous decision confirmed Browning's claim to have been the first to disclose these elements in phonograph construction, evidence being based on a drawing made on the back of a dance program.

The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. and Browning, it is now announced, will now prosecute applications for patents on the latter's invention.

LIFE INSURANCE $400,000

By WILLIAM ALMON WOLFE

"Not very much, I suppose," she said after a while. "That is, if you choose to put it that way."

"I do," he said nastily. "What good is he, anyhow?"

"I think he's a dear," said Prudence. "He's got the nicest disposition of any man I know."

Prudence didn't have sense enough to let it go at that, of course. "Good heavens, Prudence," he said. "How can you stand having him around the way you do? He doesn't know the difference between Rodin and the chap who draws the funny pictures in the Sunday Herald. And he told me the other day that opera made his head ache."

"You know," said Prudence alarmingly, "there are a lot of people really, Myles, who don't take art seriously. You're getting like the Greenwich Village crowd."

"God forbid!" said Prudence hastily. "Hang it—I like a good musical show myself, and I think some of those comic drawings are darned good. But this Hartley chap—where's he going to be when people stop dancing these fool dances you have to have a diagram for? Tell me that!"

"But he's just what he is now—a dear!" said Prudence. "And—I do believe I'm going to marry him."

"Him?" he said. "I've got something to say about that, you know."

"You can't object to Tommy," she flashed at him immediately. "He's a dear!" How she did harp on that. "Even if you don't like him, that isn't reason enough for you to—"

"Forbid the banns?" he suggested. He glared at her. "I don't care to give any reasons," he swept away calmly. "The fool will say so."

But she only laughed at him. So he got up and stalked out and tramped around for hours before he went home.

He struggled back to sanity in time, however. There was a good deal of life to be lived before he would be finally done with it, and he had a good deal of work to accomplish. He had to leave something behind—the portrait, for instance. He got it going at last, and finished it in a glorious, triumphant sort of drive that left even Hartley rather awed. The likeness that had been missing slipped into the canvas some-thing at the end of a mysterious brush. And the portrait, when it was done at last, glowed and lived.

It was good, as Prudence had known it would be. It was more than good. He scared the critics. He called for superlatives, you know, and a good critic hates the superlative degree.

Of course, it wasn't just a portrait. It was a glorious, shameless avowal of love. It was a "Song of Songs" in color.

"I love you!" cried every line, every fleck of paint that was in it.

It sobered Prudence, and it frightened her.

Dumbly she understood that when he had painted that glowing, living thing, he had reached out and possessed himself of her—of some part of her at least. It was unsettling, maddening.

All of Prudence's wooing, you see, was in the portrait. He had made his fight and lost it, in his own mind.

Of late he hadn't interfered with Prudence's extravagance. He hadn't told her of Crammer. But he had let her exceed her allowance unrebuked. There was no reason now for strictness. He enjoyed the discomfiture of his disapproving conscience.

Crammer had written to him pretty regular since he had gone back to his construction camp. The letters had been typical of the man who wrote them, with their accounts of what was being accomplished, of difficulties overcome, of wholly unforeseeable emergencies splendidly met. Crammer and the men who were with him could rise to the occasion. Prudence admired them without reserve. Their work was as purely, truly creative as his own.

It never even occurred to him to doubt Crammer or his enterprise.

Even when, for two weeks, he heard nothing from Crammer—he wasn't so much as disturbed. And then, one morning he opened his door to a knock, and Crammer, red-eyed, haggard, a stubble of beard on his chin, came in.

"Myles," he said bluntly, "there's hell to pay! How much money can you raise within a week?"

Prudence laughed.

"A few thousand—six or eight I suppose," he said. "What's the matter, Bill?"

Crammer shook his head like a man who has received a blow.

"What's the matter?" he asked. "Oh, about everything! I'm serious, Myles. If we want to save what we've got in the short line we've got to throw in a lot more I tell you. Myles, I never dreamed what the big fellows can do when they really get after you."

Prudence, vaguely frightened, waited for the story. Crammer had walked into a trap. The big railroads that would be dependent on the constructing link Crammer was building had not the slightest intention of letting his reap the reward of his foresight and his enterprise. They had allowed him to start, to sink his own money and the money he had raised from his friends in the work. They had taken care that that money didn't come from their associates; that was all.

They had waited until the completion of the short line was in sight. And then some one, sitting in an office in New York or Chicago, had pressed a button. Shipments had been delayed by factories that depended on the big railroads for their most profitable business. Freight cars containing vitally important pieces of structural steel that could not be duplicated, if lost, for many weeks, had gone astray. Amazing strikes had been called for the most grotesque reasons. Inexplicable accidents had taken place. Blasts had let go prematurely.

The construction work couldn't be finished on time. And that meant forfeiture of franchises, of grants of right of way. It meant bankruptcy, the buying in of what assets there were for a song by the railroads that alone could make use of them.

"It's piracy," said Crammer sagely. "But they've got us."

Crammer and Harper had accomplished miracles every day. But they got rid of one menace only to find two behind it. Despite all they could do, they had been forced at last to face a definite, appalling fact. We stole a march on them in the beginning—but they've had their eyes open ever since. They've bought up counties and landowners, body and soul. We'll get no extensions, no consideration at all. We can't prove conspiracy—they cover their tracks too well. And we can't go to court, anyhow. We haven't the money."

Prudence took it in slowly. There would be no dividend on the first of January. There would never be any dividend. The fortune John Bradford had left was gone—his and Prudence's.

"But—you said it was absolutely sure—" he began.

"Oh, for God's sake, don't!" cried Crammer sharply. But he caught himself. "Say whatever you please," he said. "I deserve it all. I'm a bumptious fool, Myles."

"Shut up!" growled Prudence. "You didn't know," he said. "What's to be done—that's the point?"

"There's a chance," said Crammer. "If we can raise about a half a million more, we may pull thru. That's why I came to you—"

Prudence laughed.

"You got all I had the last time, Bill," he said.

"All you had!" said Crammer, going white under his tan. "Good God! And you're taking it like this?"

"What do you want me to do?" growled Prudence. "Yelling and calling you names wouldn't bring back the money. And—it's not your fault, anyhow. You're going to keep on—"

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

As soon as dinner was over, Ned Cherry, filled with angry thoughts and a real desire to escape from the house and its inmates, slipped out of the back door and onto the high road.

She walked thru the woods for some while, then back onto the main road again, her spirits rising with every step. It was infinitely good to be alone for a while. To be walking along energetically and feeling the soft winds in her face.

Cherry had a battle to fight to a finish with herself. She realized that she was allowing herself to become jealous of Arline Bates and she knew her own nature well enough to realize that should she become so her life with Ned was going to be a hard one.

Clever little person that she was, she was determined to have this battle out with herself, and alone, once and for all. Not even Ned should see her, or even know how deeply she felt on the subject.

By now Cherry was convinced that there had been some sort of a boy and girl affair between Arline and her husband. Just how far Ned had allowed things to go she could not determine, nor did she particularly care. It was really not her business. The only thing that concerned her now was to discover whether or not Arline was setting out to flirt with her Ned all over again—despite his marriage. If this were her plan, she might beware! On and on walked Cherry debating this all important question with herself, and before she knew it she found herself in the next small town. She decided to step into a tea room and have a bite to cheer her along on the long stretch home.

As she sat munching peacefully on a sandwich she heard a deep voice in her ear, and looked up to see Arthur Hamlen, a young and most attractive man from Wellsburg, sitting at the next table alone, and evidently most pleased at meeting her.

Cherry was in a receptive mood and she dimpled and smiled at Arthur in turn. They joined forces and laughed and chattered over their tea like two children.

Cherry explained how she happened to be there, and Arthur in turn confessed that he had seen her on the road and had decided to come on to the town himself, having nothing else to do.

Arthur Hamlen was a prosperous bachelor and most of the Wellsburg girls had set their caps for him at some time or other, as Cherry well knew. She smiled now as she wondered what some of the girls' and their ambitious mothers would say if they could see her now.

Something defiant within her, which had been stirred to life by the events of the day, caused Cherry to accept with gladness Mr. Hamlen's kind offer to ride her back to Wellsburg in his car.

And amid laughs and chatter they got into the big car and started for home.

Lighting, aren't you?

"I am!" said Crammer grimly. "But we haven't got one chance in a million. I know more than I did about the crowd we're up against. America, if you want it in just one word. But—oh, well—I'm going after them again."

Prudence, somehow, for all his ignorance, realized fully what a monstrous thing he had done. The question now was: How was he to make up what Prudence had lost?

He was practical enough to know that he could make a lot of money by painting portraits. He could make his own pot boil merrily enough, but what of Prudence's? He groaned. His intentions had been so infernally good! No dishonest man could ever have worked such absolute havoc. He wouldn't have dared.

He was still sitting staring into space when the telephone rang, startling him with its strident note. Prudence's voice sounded in his ear. She wanted him to come over at once.

"I've got the most wonderful plan!" she said. "I know you're going to approve."

"Better tell me now," he said, sparring for time.

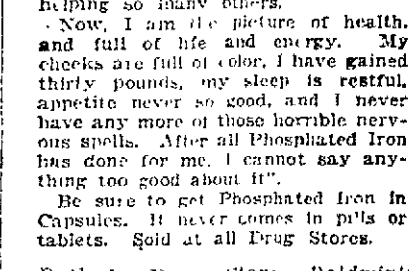

"I can't! It would spoil it if I tried to tell you over the telephone. Really, Myles, you'll come to me right away, won't you?"

He found her with blue prints and photographs and booklets. They dealt with the plans of a certain small house and with the house itself, photographed from all sides, and with the community that sheltered the house.

"Isn't it a dear, Myles?" she said. "And the greatest bargain! My heart's set on it! And every one says it's a perfectly wonderful investment. Twenty thousand dollars—and it will be worth six thousand more within a year, every one says."

"But—twenty thousand dollars—and all cash!" he said. "My dear girl—how can you spend a year's income on a house?"

THE girl with the violet cheeks, Gladys H. Short, tells how Phosphated Iron restored her health and strength.

"To look at my rosy cheeks and full rounded figure, no one would ever think that a few months ago, I was a broken-down nervous wreck," said beautiful Miss Gladys H. Short of Woodstock, N. Y.

"I am so happy and full of good spirits that I just want to tell the whole world all Phosphated Iron has done for me."

"Last winter between work and trying to keep up with my many social engagements, I overtaxed my strength. This brought on a long nervous sleep. I could not sleep, my stomach went back on me, and I became so run down, the last thing I did was to lie in bed all day and night. I lost all ambition and interest in life."

Rest and medicine did not help me, and I was almost desperate, when I read of how Phosphated Iron was helping so many others.

"Now I am the picture of health, and full of life and energy. My cheeks are full of color, I have gained thirty pounds, my sleep is restful, appetite never so good, and I never have any more of those horrible nervous spells. After all Phosphated Iron has done for me, I cannot say anything too good about it."

Be sure to get Phosphated Iron in Capsules. It never comes in pills or tablets. Sold at all Drug Stores.

LIONS AND ELKS SHOULD BATTLE LIKE MEN WITH THEIR BACKS AGAINST THE WALL

(By JIM BURBA)

Much depends upon the outcome of this afternoon's game between the Lions and the Elks. The former will enter the fray with their eyes upon the coveted top rung of the league ladder, while the latter will be casting glances behind it, in an endeavor to pull its skirts from the dark, dark and dismal cellar of the league, now being occupied by the Kiwanians.

To the Lions a victory this afternoon means they are one notch closer to that top position, and the elimination of another obstacle. To that team this afternoon's game means everything. It will practically decide whether or not they will have a chance to tie, even tho they shouldn't beat out Rotary for league honors.

ELKS SHOULD BATTLE
To the Elks a victory this afternoon means not only a notch toward the top, and a step away from the cellar position which is haunting them with clocklike regularity. A defeat for the Antwerp Tribe this afternoon means they will be on an equal footing with the Kiwanians.

So, it doesn't take an Anna Eva Kay, or a clairvoyant, or even a dopster to figure that the two teams will enter the field this afternoon, each determined to down the other in the shortest possible time.

Just another word about happenings in the Club loop. Rotary club, with the pennant within its reach, yes, rather with the pennant in its hand, is going to have a hard battle to come out on top.

ROBE'S GOING HURT
Right at a time when his services were needed most, Don Robe, youthful southpaw barber, the pitching ace of the loop, has gone. Don has signed with a team down in Virginia. In going he has bettered himself, but he has cast a cloud of despair about the Rotarians' camp. Yet, I believe there is not a member of the Rotary club who would have the after reversed if it were in their power. The young pitcher is being given his first chance to ward entering organized baseball, and even tho the chance should cost Rotary the pennant here, I believe members of that team and club, glory in the opportunities of young Robe.

The Rotarians have a good hatter in Eddie Ashton. 'Tis true, he's travelled in hard luck all this season. Now it's up to his teammates to help him kill the jinx which has been camping upon his trail. If they get out on the field, behind Ashton, determined to win, and play the steady game they reason to believe Ashton will deliver victory to them.

UNDER WRONG IMPRESSION
For some unaccountable reason the Rotary team is laboring under the impression that The News sports department is against that team. The team has never had any reason for believing this. The News is neither for or against any team in the race. It has no enemies to condemn, or, favorites to champion. Its chief ambition is to see a square deal for all, and above all things to promote clean sportsmanship in Lima. The columns of the sport pages are open to complaints or boasts, and in no instance has it been unfair to any member of the Club League. Rather it has shielded members who, maybe, should have been censured.

I do believe, however, that insofar as the fans are making the Club League possible, they are justly entitled to all the news concerning this league, whether the incidents happen on the ball field or at a meeting of the commission.

Jim B Wins Ft. Miami Feature

TOLEDO, Ohio.—The opening of the Grand Circuit meeting at Ft. Miami Park Monday, was featured by the victory of the far western pacer Jim B in the feature event, the $2,000 stake for 2:08 pacers, and the continued success of Walter Cox, who led the drivers last week at North Randall, and won two of the four races today. The track was much faster than at North Randall and the average time for the day was much faster.

Lillian Silkwood and the Edman entry, coupled, Ruth Paten and J. L. Jr., were equal choices for the paces, each selling for $50 in the auctions. Jim B bringing $20, Lawyer Swift $10 and the field $10.

NOSE OUT BREAKER
Lillian Silkwood broke when leading in the stretch in the first heat and Jim B won, the western gelding then coming from behind in the next two and winning each time with something to spare, with Lawyer Swift and Lillian Silkwood the contenders. The winner is owned by J. B. Reynolds, of Kansas City, and was driven by Walter Brettenfield.

Colorado was lured in the auctions in the 2:07 trot, and the little stallion repeated his North Randall victory in straight heats, the Murphy entry Brookworthy trotting a splendid race and forcing the winner to cut his record to 2:04 1-4 in the second heat. Cox had more trouble in the 2:18 trot, in which he landed the favorite, the Great Miss Morris, winner of the first heat by a head from Grovetown, but was beaten by that horse in the second. A break out the favorite out of it in the fourth in which Princess Nadene got the benefit of a close decision. The three heat winners raced it off, and the Cox mare led all the way. Roy Gratian was favored for the 2:05 pace, and he won the first heat easily, all out in the second and beaten soundly by King Hedgewood in the final.

FILLY IS SOLD
Greely Winnings, manager of Laurel Hall, Indianapolis, Monday sold to Tom McFadden, Jr., of French Lick, Ind., the three-year-old filly, The Great Rose, which Walter Cox worked in 2:07 yesterday. The price paid was $15,000 and the filly will probably join the stable of Lou McDonald and be raced in the future.

The feature of the racing Tuesday will be the $5,000 Tecumseh stake for 2:12 trotters in which Greely Winnings and Joe Frank, two sensational winners of last week will look up. The others starting will be Betty Taylor, Brunkoff, L. A. Watis, Mainick, Peter Daw, Princess Blawie, Trumpator and Vantage.

Two Michigan Stars Break In Game
DETROIT, Mich.—Two former baseball stars of the University of Michigan, who recently joined major league teams, made their first appearance in the lineup here yesterday. Jack Perlin replaced John Collins, who was injured Sunday in the outfield for Boston. Vernon Parks pitched the final inning of the first game for Detroit. The fans set up a call for Parks at the beginning of the second game, while Perlin's timely hits figured in Boston's scoring in both contests.

AUDACIOUS TO LEAVE TRACK
NEW YORK.—Audacious, the horse that won the Suburban and other handicaps this year, will leave the track at the end of the present season and enter upon a stud career. This announcement was made by Mrs. Wilfred Van, his owner. Audacious has defeated well known handien performers, including Mad Hatter and Exterminator.

FINAL INNING WINS COMMON IN BIG SHOW

Ninth inning victories marked three major league contests yesterday, while two other games were decided in the eighth which happened to be the final inning for the winning team. For contrast, the Boston Americans, who staged a ninth-inning rally against Detroit in the second of a double header, won the first contest in the opening inning.

The Brooklyn Nationals were three runs behind Pittsburgh with two out and the bases empty, when the Superbas came thru with hits for four runs in the ninth. The St. Louis Americans scored their winning run against Washington with two out in the ninth.

PHILS IN EIGHTH
The Philadelphia Nationals tallied their needed runs in the eighth, to which inning the game with St. Louis reverted when rain washed away a tying run scored by the Cardinals in the ninth. The Boston Nationals also tallied the winning runs over Cincinnati in the eighth and did not go to bat in the ninth as the Reds failed to score.

Nearly half of the put-outs in the Cincinnati-Boston game were credited to outfielders. The Braves catching 14 flies and the Reds 10. Roush of Cincinnati caught seven. Powell of Boston six and Nicholson of Boston five. Outfielder Wrightston of the Philadelphia Nationals made three errors. The major record for an outfielder is five.

Navy Ring Champs Seek Titles Ashore

Our land lubber champions will look to their laurels. For two of Uncle Sam's navy lads, champs in their classes among the fleet fighters, are planning to invade the rings ashore. Johnny True, 153-pound (middleweight) champ of the Atlantic and Pacific decks, plans to seek the title in that class upon his discharge from the service. Young Morse Castellucci, bluejacket on the U. S. S. Nevada, who holds the lightweight title of the Atlantic squadron, will try his gloves on shore when the fleet has its recreation period on the Hudson this month.

Lloyd Leads Match On Chicago Links
CHICAGO.—The second 18 holes of the qualification play in the amateur championship of the Western Golf Association were played today at the Westmoreland club, with prospects that the 52 qualifiers would have to better a score of 161 to compete at match play for the title now held by Chick Evans, national champion.

E. R. Lloyd of the Jackson Park Public Links, Chicago, topped the play yesterday with a course of record of 71, after the lead had been held all day by James Munion of St. Louis and R. E. Kuepper of Sioux City, holding out his last putt at dusk after most of the contestants had gone home.

Evans, the champion, took it easy and returned a 77.

WASHINGTON POLICEMAN AFTER JACK

A Washington policeman was in New York today seriously considering the chances of winning the world's heavyweight boxing championship from Jack Dempsey. He is Henry Darnelle, 31 years old, the undefeated heavyweight champion of the United States navy destroyer fleet during the war, but otherwise unknown in boxing circles.

Darnelle was pronounced by his physicians to be in perfect condition physically and his followers believe that his build, which is very similar to the present champion's, together with his natural, although undeveloped fighting ability, have placed him among those who can properly aspire to defeat Dempsey. The Washington policeman won local fame on the fourth of July when he quelled a disturbance in Capitol Heights. With his bare fists he knocked down every man in a mob that rushed at him, and Washington newspapers numbered the casualties at about one hundred.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Little Susy was taken to church by her mother for the first time. During the long sermon the child grew more and more fidgety, and kept wriggling about. Finally she became very sorely interested in a small tear in her dress and, after looking at this absently for a little while, she jumped to her feet on the seat and to the great mortification of her mother, cried out: "Has anybody in this crowd got a pin?"

SHE TOOK HER FRIEND'S ADVICE

Now is in the Best of Health Because she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Mich.—"I was not feeling well for several years and never was able to eat any breakfast and always complained of a headache or tired feeling which at times required me to stop my work and rest. I have never had a physician and never took any medicine for it until yours was recommended to me by a neighbor whom I used to visit frequently. I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am in the best of health and enjoy doing my work every moment of the day. It surely put life and 'pep' into my system."—Mrs. L. M. DARRAS, 46 Howard St., Detroit, Michigan.

It is not always in business that a woman is forced to give up her work on account of ill health. It is quite as often the woman who does her own work at home. When backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, when that bearing-down sensation attacks you, when you are nervous and blue, the one great help for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

casting fifty-nine votes. At the sixtieth voting place a judge looked at Dunnivant suspiciously and demanded to know his name. "Rosenbloom," Dunnivant replied. "You're a liar; get out of here," said the judge. "You're another," answered Dunnivant. "Rosenbloom's my name and that's the name I'm going to vote by."

All might have gone well had not McCarthy called from the rear of the line: "That's the boy, Dunnivant. Don't let 'im bluff ye."

They met at a dance and after a few dances together sat down.

Silence followed. He looked at her, she looked at him.

More silence. Then at last George asked: "Daisy, will you be my—"

"Oh, George," cried Daisy, "this is so sudden! Give me a little time—"

"Partner for the next dance," concluded George.

"To get my breath back," also continued Daisy between puffs. "I haven't quite recovered from the last shuffle yet."

"SON AND HEIR" BORN INTO MONKEY FAMILY AT CARNIVAL GROUND

"Abba dabba, dabba dab," is what Mrs. Alice whispered in the ear of her husband, Cappy, just about Tuesday noon at the Mulholland carnival, which is showing at the driving park.

In case you do not understand monkey talk, the above words spoken by Mrs. Alice, translated into English mean, "Husband meet your new son!"

For at the carnival grounds, Tuesday, according to Fred A. Munter, manager of the "Twenty In One Show," who owns Cappy and Alice, a "son and heir" was born to the carnival pair.

The new arrival is to be called "Lima," in honor of its birth place, according to Munter.

Alice hugs her baby close to her breast and allows neither man nor her husband, Cappy, to touch it.

Cappy and Alice are Rhesus monkeys, native of South America. Munter says Alice's ancestors originally came from the East Indies.
